WELCOME

Dear ClarinetFest® 2024 attendees,

We, the Artistic Directors, would like to warmly welcome you to Dublin, Ireland for this year's event. We have worked hard to bring you a unique experience this year. The focus on "Every Clarinetist is Connected" has meant we have been able to bring you a smorgasbord of repertoire from across the globe along with exciting performances and equally diverse performers.

Dublin is a wonderfully vibrant city and we hope that all attendees will experience everything that Dublin has to offer. Whether that be a tour of the Guinness Brewery or doing battle for the Iron Throne at the Game of Thrones Studio tour there is something for everyone. The Jewel of the Emerald Isle welcomes you.

We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished and we hope that ClarinetFest® 2024 will create memories that will stay for a lifetime.

Sincerely,

Sarah Watts, Peter Cigleris and Jason Alder.

FOR THE AUDIENCE.
FOR THE STAGE.
FOR THE MOMENT.

If you're a professional musician, you instinctively know when an instrument is perfect. With beautiful tones, dynamic range and exceptional presence, the Custom Clarinet range from Yamaha sets new standards in clarinet craftsmanship.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members and Friends of the International Clarinet Association:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the International Clarinet Association, I welcome you to ClarinetFest® 2024 in the beautiful city of Dublin, Ireland! Our first “international” conference location since 2018, we are thrilled to present our conference theme— Every Clarinetist is Connected—in the outstanding Convention Centre Dublin (CCD).

An enormous thank you to Artistic Directors Jason Alder, Peter Cigleris, and Sarah Watts and their Artistic Leadership Team members Anna Hashimoto and Stephanie Reeve for their superb efforts in creating a wonderfully diverse program of events. Throughout the program book, you will find many unique performances and lectures to attend, performance, research, and orchestral excerpt competitions to observe, clarinet choirs to play in, presentations by many of our ICA committees, and a host of other events not to miss.

To our marvelous advertisers, sponsors, and exhibitors, I thank you for your continued support of our organization and for your support of artists, our ICA competitions (including a generous grant from the Walder Foundation for our Young Artist Competition), and ClarinetFest® 2024. Please make sure to visit and support our outstanding exhibitors throughout the conference where you will find all your clarinet needs and more during the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday through Saturday!

On Friday, I cordially invite you to attend the ICA general business meeting at 3:30pm in the Liffey Meeting Room 3 where we will have some special announcements to update you on the activities of our organization, and on Saturday, I encourage you to attend the ICA awards ceremony at 6:30pm in the Main Auditorium where we honor our competition winners, recognize our Honorary Members, outgoing Board officers, and others who have provided service to the ICA, and more.

Enjoy this gorgeous city located in the heart of Ireland and take some time to visit some of its museums such as the EPIC Irish Emigration Museum, located just a short walk from the CCD, the world-famous Guinness Storehouse, and the Dublin Castle (just to name a few), take the Hop-On Hop-Off bus tour of the city, relish in the various offerings of delicacies to delight your tastebuds in the area, and venture out beyond the city to view the scenic countryside and more.

I hope you enjoy reconnecting with your friends, making new ones, and celebrating all things clarinet during ClarinetFest® 2024. Have a wonderful and rewarding conference, and I look forward to seeing you throughout the week as we discover how we are all connected through our love for music, the clarinet, and our wonderful organization.

Sincerely and with “Play Pretty” wishes, (Le meas agus le mianta “súgradh go leor”)

GENERAL INFORMATION & PROCEDURES

- Conference identification is required for ALL events.
- Photography, sound recording, video recording, and/or broadcasting of ClarinetFest® performances and/or presentations is prohibited; the only exception will be for photography by the official credentialed ICA photographer and members of the staff and social media team.
- Please silence all cell phones, pagers, watch alarms and any other electronic devices during performances.
- Latecomers to performances should seat themselves between movements or as allowed by performance hall staff and conference volunteers.
- Please refrain from playing or speaking loudly in hallway areas as the sound may carry into the performances spaces and disrupt the events.

ICA VALUES STATEMENT

The International Clarinet Association is committed to fostering a safe and comfortable environment for all its officers, employees, members, performers, students, vendors, business associates, and visitors who attend or participate in any ICA-sponsored event or activity. This means that all participants are treated with courtesy, fairness, and mutual respect while participating in ICA events. Accordingly, the ICA requires its members and affiliates to maintain the highest standard of professional conduct and personal integrity while attending any event or activity sponsored by the ICA.

ICA STATEMENT OF COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The ICA promotes clarinetists from all backgrounds coming together for inspiration and for cultivating personal, professional, and artistic excellence, in furtherance of its Mission Statement. All members, employees and participants are responsible for fostering a climate of mutual respect at all ICA events by nurturing an atmosphere that promotes equal opportunity and prohibits discriminatory practices and treatment. The ICA is committed to protecting such an atmosphere for all the participants at its events.

ICA POLICY PROHIBITING HARASSMENT AND DISCRIMINATION

The ICA prohibits any forms of harassment, discrimination, or bullying on the basis of an individual's actual or perceived race/ethnicity, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, national origin, age, marital status, disability, or any other protected class pursuant to applicable law, in its workplace or at any ICA function or event. Harassment is any behavior that causes distress, feelings of a lack of safety, or actual physical harm. This policy is mandatory for all officers, employees, members, performers, students, vendors, business associates, and visitors. Offending persons will be subject to appropriate disciplinary or legal action. Such disciplinary action may be, for example, termination of a business relationship, termination of membership and/or ineligibility to participate in future ICA events, and/or termination of employment, depending on the status of the offender and the nature and severity of the offense.

As an organization committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of its members, the ICA has a procedure in place, specified in its Bylaws, to terminate a membership when the Board of Directors, in concert with the Ethics Board, determines that the purposes of the Corporation are adversely affected by a member's conduct. In all such cases, the process provided in the ICA Bylaws shall be followed.

If any member or participant has experienced or is experiencing any conduct prohibited by this policy, a Director should be notified immediately and an investigation into the incident will be conducted. Any employee experiencing conduct in violation of this policy can notify a Director without fear of reprisal or retaliation, as any reprisal or retaliation regarding a good faith complaint is strictly prohibited.

LECTURE:

Presenter: Victoria Deutsch and Kassandra Ormsby-Hutcheson (USA)

All musicians, and clarinetists, are connected somehow through their pedagogical lineage, or musical family tree. Tracking this through traditional research avenues, though, can be quite cumbersome. To make this process easier, Music Ancestry strives to create an ever-growing knowledge database of music pedagogical lineage available to the entire online music community for free. Our presentation will discuss the following points: What is a pedagogical lineage and why is it important? How can we track our own pedagogical lineage? How does Music Ancestry aid in this process? How can this information and new connections influence our future as musicians?

LECTURE: "WHAT'S WRONG WITH BEING A FAT CLARINETIST?: FAT BODY POLITICS IN THE WORLD OF CLARINET PERFORMANCE."

Presenter: Sarah Lucas-Page (USA)

In a world so heavily catered to thinness, where and how do fat people find their way in the world? With how the world has made me view my own body I wanted to research how this mentality of anti-fat bias influenced the world of clarinet performance. This inspired me to reach out to other women clarinetists to hear their stories. In this presentation, I explore in their interviews how we as fat women clarinetists are treated differently, how societal norms and fat bias have wormed their way into the clarinet performance world, and the effect that this has on our performances and mental health. Be advised in this presentation I will use the word fat as a way to describe a body type and words I will avoid using are; overweight, obese, curvy, husky, and other words you might think of to avoid saying the word fat.

LECTURE: "REPERTOIRE FOR CLARINET COMPOSED BY CATALAN COMPOSERS"

Presenter and Performer: Ionas Mercadal Euler

I'll be delving into the rich heritage of composers from the Catalan Countries – Catalonia, Valencia, and the Balearic Islands. We'll explore their distinctive musical styles, analyzing the shared characteristics that define their compositions, as well as the innovative clarinetistic techniques evident in their works.

The pieces:

“Clar i net” for solo clarinet by Salvador Brotons i Soler (b. 1959), born in Barcelona, Catalonia. Published by Brotons & Mercadal Edicions Musicals.

“Tres piezas para clarinete solo” by Ricardo Baixauli Ferrer (b. 1963), born in Alfalfar, Valencia. Published by Rivera Editores.

“Enigma per a clarinet i piano” by Josep Prohens (b. 1959), born in Felanitx, Mallorca, Balearic Islands. Published by Brotons & Mercadal Edicions Musicals.

These compositions not only highlight the talents of living composers but also showcase the ongoing vibrancy and evolution of clarinet music in the Catalan Countries. Through an exploration of their works, we’ll gain valuable insights into the contemporary clarinetistic techniques and musical innovations shaping the region’s cultural landscape.

EVENING CONCERT – BRITISH CLARINET ENSEMBLE AND SOLOISTS

Celebration Overture Eric Hughes (1924-2000)

Celebration was written in 1977 for the Queen’s Silver Jubilee and was commissioned by John Denman for the University of Idaho’s clarinet choir. In 1982 it came to the notice of John MacKenzie who performed it on several occasions with the Darlington Clarinet Ensemble. Charles Hlne chose the piece to open the British Clarinet Ensemble’s first ever performance given on tour in Helsinki, Finland in July 1995. It was subsequently recorded on the BCE’s first album “Gordian Knots”.

LECTURE: "HACKING THE NEURODIVERGENT BRAIN: AN APPROACH TO PRACTICING FOR CLARINETISTS WITH AND WITHOUT ADHD"

Presenter: Meredith Gersten (USA)

ADHD brains struggle with motivation, time blindness, and task initiation. This presents obstacles for musicians when it comes to getting to the practice room and staying motivated. While the traits of ADHD are unique, the steps to addressing them can be beneficial for both neurodivergent and neurotypical musicians and students.

LECTURE: "THOMAS RYAN: AN IRISH AMERICAN CLARINETIST OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY"

Presenter and performer: Jane Ellsworth (USA)

Irish-born Thomas Ryan (1827–1903) was arguably the most important clarinetist in nineteenth-century America, yet today he is virtually unknown. In the 1850s and 60s he gave the first documented American performances of standard works by Mozart, Weber, Schumann, Beethoven, and others. He was also himself a composer of numerous clarinet works. In this talk we will rediscover Ryan, and one of his works will receive its modern-day premiere.

LECTURE: “JIM KANTER ON MOUTHPIECES AND THE CLARINET”

Presenter: Jim Kanter

1. A general explanation of how a clarinet works:
 - air moving through the instrument pulling the reed against the mouthpiece.
 - the interaction of reed to mouthpiece facing contour.
 - the speed the air travels through the chamber, bore and into the barrel and clarinet.
2. Facing shapes, lengths and contours and how they relate to mouthpiece/reed interaction.
3. Chamber/Baffle contours and displacement and how they relate to air exit speed into the bore.
4. Bore contours and the relationship to air speed.
5. How air speed is related to response.
6. How the material of the blank relates to timbre and response.

LECTURE: “THE POWER OF CULTIVATING SAFE CREATIVE SPACES”

Presenter: Amy Zuidema (USA)

This lecture defines what a safe space is, establishes the need for emotionally safe environments in creative settings, and provides a framework for cultivating these spaces by proactively managing risk. This framework is applicable to performers, educators, and administrators alike.

By understanding and managing risk in creative spaces, facilitators can help individuals feel safe embracing vulnerability, which is crucial for innovation. Emphasizing safety through this framework fosters a more inclusive, validating, and secure musical environment, benefiting both the global clarinet community and our own creative spaces.

This lecture reflects on the findings of Amy Zuidema's European Master of Music Research at Prins Claus Conservatorium in the Netherlands and has been presented in The United States, The Netherlands, & Germany.

LECTURE: "ARTIST RESEARCH AND PERFORMANCE DEVELOPMENT: EXPLORING CHAMBER MUSIC BY BRITISH WOMEN COMPOSERS (19TH – EARLY 20TH CENTURY)"

Presenter: Alison Hughes (UK)

Through striving to perform diverse clarinet repertoire, it became evident that many women composers remain unknown. I'll share my research findings around British women composers (19th – early 20th century) and their careers. I'll share an unpublished Trio by Morfydd Owen and other chamber music extracts arranged for clarinet, alongside audio excerpts.

Alison Hughes's research is partly funded by Francis Routh Trust.

LECTURE:

Presenter and Performer: Wesley Rhodes

Performing with electronics and self-recording are becoming the norm for any musician pursuing a career in performance or educations. The goal of this presentation is to educate members of the community on the tools and procedures necessary to have successful performances and recording. Attendees will learn about the microphones, audio interfaces, piezo pickups, computer programs, and other electronic equipment. They will see examples of pieces that may call for various programs and devices such as Max/MSP, Zoom G6 Multi-effects processor, and fixed media. The goal is to take the mystery out of this realm of musicianship.

LECTURE: "PERFORMANCE PSYCHOLOGY WORKSHOP ON MENTAL SKILLS: "FINDING OUR VOICE"

Presenter: Dr. Christine Carter (Canada)

As a sequel to the workshop on motivation at last year's ClarinetFest in Denver, this interactive workshop will explore strategies from the fields of cognitive, sport, and performance psychology and how they can be applied to optimize music performance. We will discuss the nerves, self-talk, and feelings of imposter syndrome that can be so immobilizing for musicians and how evidence-based tools can be easily implemented to help musicians build the necessary mental skills to find their voice and reach peak performance.

Christine Carter's appearance has been made possible by a professional artist grant from MusicNL.

LECTURE:

Presenter: Meghan Taylor (USA)

Have you ever finished a performance and noticed your ears ringing? This ringing could be a warning sign for potential hearing loss! The World Health Organization currently estimates that 1.1 billion young people are at risk for Noise-Induced Hearing Loss due to unsafe listening practices. Clarinetists should be even more aware of these concerns since musicians use their hearing in a specialized manner while learning and performing music. Through this presentation you will understand the prevalence of hearing problems in the music community, recognize signs of potential risk, and identify behaviors that can help prevent hearing loss.

LECTURE: “THE CHOREOGRAPHY OF MUSIC”

Presenter: Diego Vásquez (USA)

As musicians, our bodies exist in space. We are athletes, keenly aware of the danger of unwanted tension. What does body language have to do with playing the clarinet well? Interdisciplinary creativity underscores artistic history. As clarinetists, just a little bit of movement knowledge can greatly improve our playing.

This work for unaccompanied clarinet features a component made by A.I. and visuals. It highlights the social issue of homelessness. That's what the title means – the clarinet part is all based on the pitches C and E, which in the title translates to the note name C and me (solfège), while emphasizing the need to see the humanity of our homeless citizens. Society has forgotten to see them as fellow humans, hence the title.

LECTURE: "NEW MUSIC FROM SOUTHEAST ASIA: COMPOSER JONAS BAES AND THE ALTO CLARINET"

Presenter and Performer: Nora-Louise Müller (Germany)

An outcome of a performer-composer collaboration, "Epos" for alto clarinet solo by Philippino composer Jonas Baes aims to transform impressions of the rituals and music of the Philippine Island of Mindoro into sounds and notation of Western contemporary music. A researcher in ethno-musicology himself, Baes expresses his emotions about indigenous life in the 21st century. Baes's music is based on the dialectic of Asian tradition and European modernity, while it comes from a very concrete idea: the desire to preserve and perpetuate the traditional culture and nature of the Philippines.

LECTURE: “EXAMINING HOW (AND WHY) COMPOSERS USE CONTEMPORARY TECHNIQUES FOR THE CLARINET AND BASS CLARINET”

Presenter: Dalton Ringey (USA)

This paper aims to provide clarinetists with a deeper understanding of why composers use contemporary techniques in their pieces. While existing resources have focused on performers learning to utilize these techniques, this presentation provides important context necessary to understand the importance of learning these techniques as a contemporary musician.

HONORARY MEMBER BIOGRAPHIES

MITCHELL ESTRIN

Mitchell Estrin is Professor of Clarinet at the University of Florida, Music Director and Conductor of the University of Florida Clarinet Ensemble, and a 2018 University of Florida Research Foundation Professor. He also serves as the Artistic Director of the Vandoren Clarinet Ensemble Festival and was founder of the Buffet Crampon USA Summer Clarinet Academy. From 2018-2020, Professor Estrin served as President of the International Clarinet Association. Mitchell Estrin studied clarinet with Stanley Drucker at The Juilliard School where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees in music. During his 25-year association with the New York Philharmonic, he performed in hundreds of concerts and on 19 international tours as principal, second, and E-flat clarinetist.

A proponent of the clarinet choir, Prof. Estrin served as director of the ICA ClarinetFest, Festival, and Professors Clarinet Choirs, Oklahoma Clarinet Symposium Clarinet Choir, and many others. He is a Guinness World Record holder for conducting the world's largest clarinet choir (367 members) in 2019. He is the author of the biography Stanley Drucker, Clarinet Master published by Carl Fischer, LLC.

CAROLINE HARTIG

Caroline Hartig is Professor of Clarinet at The Ohio State University. She has appeared as soloist with orchestras and contemporary music ensembles and as a recitalist in major concert halls including Carnegie Hall and Symphony Hall (Boston). She has performed with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, Indianapolis Chamber Orchestra, Boston Philharmonic and New Hampshire Music Festival Orchestra. She has premiered and performed solo clarinet works by leading contemporary composers including William Bolcom, Don Freund, Jere Hutcheson, Libby Larsen, Donald Martino, William Thomas McKinley, Charles Ruggiero and Paul Schoenfield. Hartig earned degrees from The Ohio State University (BME), New England Conservatory (MM), and the State University of New York at Stony Brook (DMA). Major teachers and career mentors have included Harold Wright, Robert Marcellus, Charles Neidich, and Michele Zukovsky. She served as President of the International Clarinet Association from 2015-2018.

ERIC HOEPRICH

Eric Hoeprich is one of the world's leading exponents of the historical clarinet. A native of Baltimore, MD, he holds an honors degree in philosophy from Harvard. He teaches at the Paris Conservatoire, Indiana University's Early Music Institute, and the Royal Conservatory in The Hague. For the past thirty years he has specialized in performing historical clarinet. As a founding member and principal clarinet of Frans Brüggen's Orchestra of the 18th Century, Hoeprich has performed frequently as a soloist with this orchestra, as well as with many of the major early music ensembles in Europe, the United States, and Australia. He has amassed a collection of over 100 antique clarinets, including instruments from the eighteenth century, which has also led to restoration and construction of replicas of period originals. He is the author of The Clarinet (Yale University Press, 2008).

PHILIP RISTA NIMMONS

Canadian Phil Nimmons is a celebrated composer, arranger, bandleader, clarinetist, and educator. He studied clarinet at the Juilliard School with Arthur Christmann and composition at the Royal Conservatory of Music with Richard Johnston, Arnold Walter, and John Weinzwieg. Nimmons was a founding member of the Canadian League of Composers and an associate of the Canadian Music Center. He wrote several commissioned works as a composer including, "The Torch" which was commissioned for the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary. He won the inaugural Juno Award for best jazz album in 1977 and in 1986 he received the inaugural Toronto Arts Award in the music category. He was appointed an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1993. In 2002, Nimmons received the Governor General Performing Arts Award, Canada's highest honor in the performing arts, for his lifetime contribution to popular music. Additionally, in 2005, Nimmons was awarded the Lifetime Achievement Award by SOCAN at the SOCAN Awards in Toronto.

MICHAEL WEBSTER

Michael Webster is former principal clarinetist with the Rochester Philharmonic and acting principal of the San Francisco Symphony. He has appeared with the Philadelphia Orchestra, Boston Pops, Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, 92nd Street Y, the Tokyo, Cleveland, Muir, Ying, and Dover String Quartets, and the festivals of Marlboro, Santa Fe, Chamber Music Northwest, Norfolk, Victoria, Stratford, Domaine Forget, Angel Fire, Steamboat, Park City, Sitka, Maui, Skaneateles, Bowdoin, and Orcas Island. He has been on the clarinet and conducting faculties of Eastman, Boston University, New England Conservatory, the University of Michigan, and Rice University's Shepherd School of Music, from which he retired in 2023.

Webster has performed and taught all over the United States and in Canada, Central and South America, Europe, Japan, China, New Zealand, and Australia. He has recorded for Arabesque, Albany, Bridge, Camerata, Centaur, C.R.I., Crystal, Nami, and New World. As composer and arranger, Webster has been published by Presser, International, G. Schirmer, and Schott. His work Echoes and Reflections for two solo clarinets, strings and percussion will be featured at ClarinetFest 2025 in Fort Worth.

Under his direction, the Houston Youth Symphony was recently named Honored Artist for Sustained Excellence by the American Prize. Having written 85 articles on "Teaching Clarinet" for The Clarinet magazine, he is receiving an honorary membership from the International Clarinet Association in 2024. An artist-clinician for Buffet Crampon, Michael Webster plays Buffet clarinets exclusively.

HEADLINER BIOGRAPHIES

Dr. Vince Dominguez—a.k.a Claire Annette—is an award-winning Mexican clarinetist, drag artist, designer, and music educator. Vince completed his Doctor of Musical Arts degree at Arizona State University in April 2020. While there, he held one of two competitive graduate teaching assistantships. His dissertation project featured a studio record and performance guide, featuring three commissioned works by acclaimed Mexican composers Hilda Paredes, Juan Trigos, and Victor Ibarra, each underscoring sociopolitical issues across the United States and Latin America. During the 2020 lockdowns, when live performances and traditional jobs in music became impossible, Vince created Dr. Claire Annette, his drag persona who blends classical music with the art of drag performance as a way to continue making music beyond the concert hall. Now based in Providence, RI, Claire Annette is in demand across the country, delivering a fresh take on what it means to be a pro musician in the twenty-first century. As a modern icon for both queer and POC representation, Claire has already left an impact, forging new audiences in unconventional venues, inspiring musicians of all levels to celebrate their individuality, and making classical music more accessible to younger generations worldwide. She is proud to be a blueprint for breaking old expectations and creating space for vulnerable communities to feel empowered during a time when anti-drag and LGBTQIA+ legislation continues to intensify nationwide.

Drs. Vince Dominguez & Claire Annette are Henri SELMER Paris endorsed artists and create using Priviège clarinets. For more: www.vincedominguez.com / www.claireannette.com

Nicolas Baldeyrou, a French clarinetist, has emerged as a prominent soloist of his generation. His versatility and mastery allow him to traverse various musical eras and styles with proficiency on both historical and modern instruments. His skill has been acknowledged with prizes in prestigious competitions such as the Munich ARD Competition, Dos Hermanas Competition, and the ICA Young Artist Competition, leading to performances in renowned venues like Carnegie Hall, Amsterdam Concertgebouw, and the Great Hall of the Moscow Conservatory.

He frequently collaborates with top orchestras including the Bavarian Radio Symphony Orchestra and Orchestre National de France, working with distinguished conductors like Carlo-Maria Giulini and Claudio Abbado. In chamber music, Baldeyrou has shared the stage with artists like Martha Argerich, Bertrand Chamayou and Renaud Capuçon.

A pivotal moment in his career was his interaction with Nikolaus Harnoncourt and Sir Roger Norrington, which spurred his interest in historical instruments and historically informed interpretations. He has recently performed as a soloist on period instruments with the Musiciens du Louvre and the Concert de la Loge.

His latest engagements include performances with the Mannheim National Theatre Orchestra and appearances at notable festivals like the Festival Ravel. His discography, covering a wide spectrum of the clarinet repertoire, has received critical acclaim and numerous French awards.

Baldeyrou, a CNSMD of Paris alumnus, has been a clarinet professor at the CNSM in Lyon since 2007 and a visiting professor at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland since 2019. He collaborates with Buffet Crampon in research and development, serving as an ambassador and tester, and is also a Vandoren artist.

The British Clarinet Ensemble was formed some 28 years ago. It's members are professional and amateur performers of all ages. The ensemble currently rehearses once a month in the East Midlands a central point that allows access for our members many of whom travel a great distance to attend. Our current musical director is Anthony Bailey and we also have a number of guest conductors including most recently Nigel Wood. Our mission is to present the finest repertoire for clarinet choir and we have commissioned many new works some of which have been given first performances at ICA Clarifests. The majority of our commissions are published and we have also recorded three CD albums. Further information can be viewed on our website www.britishclarinetensemble.co.uk

The ConTempo String Quartet (Bogdan Sofei and Ingrid Nicola, violins, Andreea Banciu, viola and Adrian Mantu, cello) was formed in 1995 in Bucharest, Romania and was appointed as Fellows of London's Royal Academy of Music 1999-2022, The Galway Music Residency's 'Galway Ensemble in Residence' in 2003 and as the new RTÉ string quartet in 2013.

The quartet has won fourteen international prizes at string quartet competitions across Europe, including London, Berlin, Prague, Munich, Rome, Cluj, Graz, Florence and Hamburg. Other awards include the Romanian Music Critics Award for 'Best Chamber Music Ensemble' of the year, 1995, and 'Order of Knights in Performing Arts', conferred by the Romanian President, Klaus Iohannis, in 2022 for their contribution towards Romanian heritage and for successfully representing Romania in Ireland for two decades.

In 2016 the members of the quartet were awarded Honorary Doctorates in Music from the NUI Galway in recognition of their cultural work in Ireland and for their service to Galway in the areas of music performance and education.

ConTempo Quartet has commissioned and premiered over one hundred Irish contemporary and historical works. Irish new music was showcased in their international concerts, including concerts at Carnegie Hall, New York, and Wigmore Hall, London, in a three-year EU project, New Music: New Audiences, as well as in 'Composing the Island', the largest ever festival of Irish music, surveying the century 1916-2016, presented by RTÉ in collaboration with National Concert Hall, Dublin.

ConTempo Quartet performed over two thousand nine hundred concerts worldwide in venues such as Philharmonie Berlin, Wigmore Hall in London, Musées Royaux des Beaux-

Arts de Belgique, Tel-Aviv Performing Arts Centre in Israel, Tokyo University of the Arts in Japan, Carnegie Hall in New York, National Concert Hall in Dublin, Beverly Hilton Hall in Los Angeles and Théâtre du Châtelet in Paris.

The quartet has had the honour of performing in front of heads of state, Nobel Prize Laureates, and Hollywood stars.

The quartet's discography can be found on the Sony, Universal, Quartz, NMC, VEB Deutsche Schallplatten, RTÉ lyric fm and HBO labels. The quartet arranged and recorded the soundtrack for several European and American films including Steven Spielberg and Tom Hanks's Band of Brothers. ConTempo's collaborations with artists from different fields of art and music came to fruition with the release of two crossover CD albums. New Airs, which took the No. 3 spot in iTunes charts, is a multi-disciplinary album that unites the classical music world with Irish rock, traditional and pop music from the last thirty years to the present, reimagined for string quartet, bodhrán and electronics. Spiccato Junction album is a collaboration between ConTempo and Irish trad musicians Máirtín O'Connor, Garry O'Briain and Cathal Hayden.

Crossover collaborations with local artists and Irish composers have been at the core of ConTempo's work since 2003.

In 2019 and 2020, the quartet celebrated their 25th anniversary season through a series of live and online events, including a Beethoven250 series as part of the Galway International Arts Festival, continued their popular, long-standing Galway monthly chamber music series, From Europe with Love, part of their Galway Music Residency programme, a tour of Belgium and the official launch of their CD album of Swan Hennessey's string quartet works, newly rediscovered by the German musicologist Axel Klein.

For 2023 the four members of ConTempo planned a series of festivals, cross-over collaborations, gala concerts and recordings to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of The Galway Music Residency and twenty years since their arrival in Ireland.

Coro De Clarinetes De Mexico: Every year, since 1995 it has become a tradition to gather participants of Clarinet Festivals in order to join a big clarinet ensemble, performing mostly classical music repertoire. The ensemble's main promoter and manager has been Marino Calva, principal clarinetist of OFUNAM, and teacher of National Conservatory of music in Mexico. The roster of musicians who have conducted "Coro de Clarinetes de México" includes figures such as Juan Enric Lluna, Clarence Padilla, Michel Collins among others. Rocco Parisi conducted this ensemble in ClarinetFest 2013 in Assisi, Italy and Antonio Saiote in ClarinetFest 2015 in Madrid, Spain. Coro de Clarinetes de México has recently played in ClarinetFest in Reno and Denver. This ensemble is formed by professional musicians, teachers and students of the main schools of music in Mexico.

She has been recognized with the 2021 Salamanca's Woman award in the category of culture by the Tierno Galván Association.

Clarinetist John Finucane, who has been Principal Clarinet with Ireland's RTE National Symphony Orchestra since 1995, has also had an active career as a soloist, chamber musician and conductor in Ireland and abroad. Described by Gramophone magazine as 'an outstanding virtuoso', on the release of his CD "Clarinet Variations," he has worked with the Ulysses Ensemble, the Irish Chamber Orchestra, Welsh National Opera, Opera North and Irish Film Orchestras. He has appeared regularly on radio and on television programmes, including RTE's The Symphony Sessions and Britain's The South Bank Show. He has a particular affinity to chamber music and has worked with many groups, including the Ysaye, the Navarra and the Vanbrugh Quartets.

John Finucane is also a conductor of note, having studied with Janus Furst and Albert Rosen amongst others, and has regularly conducted the highly regarded RTE Concert Orchestra, the Ulster Orchestra and Opera Theatre Company. He was one of the founders of the Dublin Chamber Orchestra and has been the Musical Director of the Hibernian Orchestra for nearly thirty years. Despite his hugely busy life as a performing artist and conductor, John has found the time to join the faculty of the Royal Irish Academy of Music. His many tours have included China, as a soloist as well as with the National Chamber Ensemble of Ireland and Academy Chamber Ensemble performing to sell-out audiences. John recently finished conducting the music for a forthcoming film, Storm in the Stars – with music by Amelia Warner, arranged and orchestrated by Nathan Klein, and Presently, Gardner serves as chair of the International Clarinet Association Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access Committee and is passionate about building a clarinet community that welcomes everyone (see clarEquality.com for more information). As former chair of the ICA New Music Committee, she founded the biennial ICA Low Clarinet Festival and the annual ICA New Music Weekend.

Gardner was awarded “Outstanding Contributions in Private Teaching” by Arizona State University, where she received Bachelor, Master, and Doctor of Musical Arts degrees in Clarinet Performance from Arizona State University studying with Robert Spring.

Arun Ghosh is a British-Asian clarinetist, bandleader and composer. Twice awarded ‘Jazz Instrumentalist of the Year’ at the Parliamentary Jazz Awards, Ghosh leads his own ensembles, touring nationally and internationally. He has released five albums on camoci records: Northern Namaste, Primal Odyssey, A South Asian Suite, but where are you really from? , and Secluded in Light. Also working as a composer for theatre and film, Arun’s most recent composition is for chamber jazz ensemble and voices, an eleven song setting of St Francis of Assisi’s The Canticle of the Sun. He collaborates extensively with sitarist Anoushka Shankar and singer and broadcaster Cerys Matthews, with previous collaborations including Jah Wobble, Talvin Singh and Nitin Sawhney.

Ghosh studied clarinet at school, later with Neville Duckworth, John Bradbury and Paul Dintinger at the Royal Northern College of Music, initially focussing on European classical music. He soon moved his musical expression towards jazz, which then broadened to Indian classical styles alongside Balkan, folk and world music approaches, leading to the establishment of his sound and playing style.

Armed with this open-eared aesthetic and philosophy, Ghosh’s music embodies a multi-era / multi-genre approach, where numerous strands of jazz join forces with a myriad of musical influences. Subtly and intuitively bringing together South-Asian music and jazz culture, he is now considered an ‘innovator of modern IndoJazz’.

Born in 1990, Istanbul, Selin Gürol is a Turkish clarinetist at the Presidential Symphony Orchestra in Ankara, Türkiye. Improbable Beasts is a Boston-based professional bass clarinet ensemble dedicated to bringing the deeply expressive power of multiple bass clarinets before a broad audience. Our repertoire ranges from Gregorian chant to Renaissance choral music to brand-new compositions to klezmer tunes and holiday songs. Our mission is to share the deep resonances, soaring lyricism, and propulsive grooves of bass clarinet ensemble music with as many people as we can.

The members of Improbable Beasts are some of the most sought-after clarinetists in the Boston area, regularly appearing with groups such as the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Boston Pops Orchestra, Boston Philharmonic Orchestra, Boston Lyric Opera, Boston Modern Orchestra Project, and numerous regional orchestras, new music groups, and chamber ensembles.

Improbable Beasts' founder and leader, Jonathan Russell, has two decades of experience inventing and performing music for bass clarinet(s). He was a longtime member of the Edmund Welles bass clarinet quartet, and is a member, with Jeff Anderle, of the Sqwonk bass clarinet duo. He is also a seasoned composer and arranger, with a vast catalog of works for orchestras, choirs, chamber ensembles, and wind bands. With the creation of Improbable Beasts, he can realize the richly-textured, harmonious, ferocious music of his dreams.

The Improbable Beasts have performed at venues throughout the Boston area, ranging from churches to bars, and were a featured performer at the first ever Low Clarinet Fest in Glendale, AZ, in January 2023.

In 2009, Jessie Demaree and Chris Del Favero came together, a musical collision that sparked the inception of JFUNK. Their partnership, akin to a potent reaction, marked the genesis of a revolutionary project in the Arizona music scene.

Fast-forward to 2012, and the duo embarked on a two-year expedition throughout Central and South America. Immersed in the local music scenes, they performed, collected records, and gathered instruments, enriching their sonic palette with diverse influences. Upon returning in 2014, JFUNK resurfaced with a renewed vigor, infusing the Arizona music landscape with unprecedented sounds.

With a lineup expanded to seven talented Arizona musicians, JFUNK delves into a genre-defying blend of Klezmer, Funk, Brazil, Ethiopia, Southeast Asia, Jazz, Afrobeat, Turkey, Mexico, and Colombia. Their music resonates with a distinctive, cross-cultural energy that pushes sonic boundaries.

JFUNK's dedication to their craft is evident in their self-funded endeavors, including five tours, two albums, and five videos. Sharing stages with notable acts like George Clinton, March Fourth Marching Band, Harmar Superstar, Calxico, Brownout, and Combo Chimbata, the ensemble has established itself as a formidable presence in the musical landscape.

The journey of JFUNK reflects not just musical exploration but a commitment to cultural immersion, offering audiences an authentic and eclectic experience that transcends the ordinary.

She has been invited to teach masterclasses in Italy, at the Royal Conservatoire of Brussels, at the Royal Welsh College of Music, at the Michigan State University and at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama.

Mark O'Brien was born in Poole, Dorset and enjoyed listening to music from an early age. However it was not until the age of thirteen when he first began lessons at school on the Alto Saxophone that his life would change direction forever. He quickly progressed and soon joined the local Big Band playing Glen Miller, Benny Goodman and Count Basie's Big Band music.

Keen to study at an established music college in London, Mark began lessons on Clarinet alongside the Saxophone with Frank Holdsworth (Bournemouth Sinfonietta) and Michael Whight (BSO). At that time the Saxophone was not considered a serious instrument and there were no dedicated courses to study in London.

After clarinet auditions at the major music colleges in London, Mark gained a place to study the clarinet at the Royal Academy of Music, where he excelled in orchestral and chamber music. Teachers at the R.A.M. included Keith Pearson (RPO) and Richard Addison (RPO) and regular master classes with Anthony Pay and Karl Leister (Berlin Philharmonic).

Following a successful audition and trial period for Principal Bass Clarinet, Mark was invited by Simon Rattle to join The City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra in 1991, a position he currently holds today.

Mark enjoys playing in various ensembles including the Birmingham Contemporary Music Group, The Little Big Time Band, El Utimo Tango and the latest exciting new CBSO Band "The Symphonic Six". Mark has performed in many of the major concert halls around the world with some of the world's greatest conductors and has premiered numerous works by British composers. A Professor of Clarinet at the Royal Birmingham Conservatoire for over 30 years. Mark has various other passions including Classic Mercedes Automobiles and running a successful online music business.

Araya is a quartet performing folkloric and traditional music from Latin America. Our repertoire spans the early 1800s – late 1950s, from Brazilian Bossas to Mexican Sons, transporting audiences to the music's beautiful and tragically depicted scenes. Our new arrangements were created by composer and conductor Manuel Hurtado Dueñez and directed by Keric Alvarez Zapata. The inclusion of the clarinet accentuates the pivotal moments in our arrangements, emulating the grooves and oomph found in Latin American music.

Araya is honored to feature special guest Miguel Siso on the Venezuelan cuatro for ClarinetFest 2024. Siso is a Venezuelan cuatro player, composer, and producer, Latin Grammy winner in 2018 with his album "IDENTIDAD" as "Best Instrumental Album of the year" and the 1st place winner at the prestigious La Siembra del Cuatro festival. Siso is considered one of the most versatile and outstanding cuatro players of his generation.

Cindy Bartz earned a Music Education Degree at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point School of Music. She is a certified yoga instructor and has a Yoga Teacher Training program in Tampa, FL.

Over the years, as a clarinetist and a yogi, Cindy realized yogic breath techniques increased her lung capacity and specific movements gave her better breath control. Her performance anxiety became less of an issue and her yoga practice helped her as a musician to stay focused.

The Canadian Bass Clarinet Association – ACCB (accb.ca) was founded in 2020 by Mélanie Bourassa and André Moisan. The ACCB aims to create a Canadian community, linked to international communities, around the bass clarinet. Its objectives are to inform members of what is happening internationally in terms of research related to the bass clarinet, to disseminate and keep up to date the interactive catalog of repertoire for bass clarinet created by Mélanie Bourassa, to organize concerts, symposiums, master classes and activities and to create links between the student communities, amateur musicians and professional musicians. The Canadian Bass Clarinet Association performed at the Low Clarinet Festival, Phoenix, Arizona, January 2023, St-Ange-de-Lachine February 2023, Palais Montcalm, Québec, April 2023, Dublin ClarinetFest July 2024.

The ensemble LaBaCie has existed since September 2021. LabaCie consists of 8 bass clarinets, 1 contrabass clarinet and a percussionist. The ensemble's line-up is very unique. In addition to a few concerts in Ostend (casino Kursaal), we had the opportunity to play a concert tour in Valencia (Spain) in September 2022. In December 2023 we performed at the European Clarinet Congress Tilburg (The Netherlands). The repertoire is very varied: in addition to classical music, we also perform Pop, Latin American and Rock songs.

Capriccio Clarinet Orchestra from the Netherlands was founded in 1989 by conductor John de Beer. This means that for more than 35 years, (former) students have been rehearsing with great pleasure to give concerts everywhere. Indeed, everywhere, because in those 35 years the orchestra has given many concerts by invitation, in the Netherlands and abroad. Concert tours have been made to Western European countries, but also to Hungary, Australia, Russia and Japan. In 2021, daughter Ailien de Beer took over the orchestra after John was terminally ill. John passed away on January 13, 2024. A big loss for Capriccio, but a great reason to continue with music, which was John's greatest wish. Now, after 35 years, the orchestra is still alive, full of ambition and with the same passion and drive as John has guided this orchestra for more than 30 years.

Peter is an ambassador for Backun Musical and D'Addario.

Josè Daniel Cirigliano is a concert performer, teacher, researcher and experimenter of the extended techniques of the clarinet and its "family". His recording projects, 'CONTEMPORARIES CLARINET WORKS' (Tactus, 2014), "MUSIC FOR SOLO CLARINET between the 20th and 21st centuries" (Tactus, 2019) and "CLARILOQUI" (Da Vinci Classic, 2022), are, according to specialized critics, a landmark for the contemporary clarinet literature. The reviews published on famous magazines of the field and on specialized Italian and foreign websites express high level of appreciation for his high level as an interpreter and performer, including him among the best contemporary clarinetists (R. Zecchini, in Musica, 05/2015 n° 84). Well-known contemporary composers have composed for him valuable pieces of exquisite interest and impression, dedicated not only to his executive technique but also to his remarkable interpretative vis. The experimentation with extended techniques, questions of executive practice, are aspects which always concern the topics covered in his workshops and masterclass.

David Ciucevich has enjoyed a varied, fulfilling life & career as a musician with a diverse portfolio of talents (multi-instrumentalist, operatic tenor, and musicologist) for over 40 years. David had Musician's Focal Dystonia for 30 years and tried many techniques to resolve it. Working with Ruth Chiles, David finally resolved his dystonia & was the first person trained & mentored by Ruth in her "Focal Dystonia Cure" process. He works with musicians and athletes online, worldwide, to resolve their dystonia and rediscover the joy of performance (and life). David mentors with Cherie Lindberg and has completed Brainspotting (BSP) Phase 4 & 3 (Dr. David Grand), Phase 2 (Dr. Mark Grixti), Phase 1 (Sue Pinco & Deb Antinori), and other specialized BSP trainings. David holds a MM (Clarinet Performance & Music History) from the University of Northern Colorado. David serves as Principal Clarinet of the Cleveland (OH) Philharmonic Orchestra. www.brainspottingfocaldystonia.com

Claribel was founded in February 1992 in the lap of Guido Six's clarinet classes with the aim of promoting the clarinet, promoting new work for clarinet choir and promoting Belgian composers such as Roland Cardon, Norbert Goddaer, Willy Soenen, Bart Picqueur, Bernard Baert, Bert Six, Henk Soenen, and others, as well as giving young people a stage. The ensemble acquired a fine reputation worldwide including performances at the International ClarinetFest (1994 Chicago – 1996 Paris – 1997 Lubbock/Phoenix – 2000 Oklahoma – 2003 Salt Lake City/Phoenix – 2017 Orlando – 2018 Ostend). Claribel herself organized ClarinetFest in Ostend in 1999 on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the Conservatorium aan Zee. In 2018 she again organized the international clarinetfest as a memory to Guido Six. Performances at Midwest (Chicago) 2005 & 2012 and TMEA 2010 (San Antonio, Texas) were met with loud applause due to the quality of the Flemish repertoire. When Guido Six and his son Jef passed away in 2015, his wife, Chantal Vandekerckhove along with her son Bert, took over the organisation. Bart Picqueur took over the orchestra's provisional direction. Now the direction is in the hands of Luc Note, Bert Six and Henk Soenen.

In addition, they often play in a small formation this for academic sessions, house concerts, and in residential care centers. (Claribel quartet or quintet)

Claricello has been performing and curating chamber music concerts since 1998 exploring the growing number of pieces for clarinet/bass clarinet and cello. Their concerts feature informative interaction with the audience and focus on sharing new music in a way that fosters interest and understanding for listeners less familiar with the genre. They have perform pre-existing works, create arrangements adding to the repertoire, and occasionally have the opportunity to commission new works as well. They have performed across the US, Italy, Panama, Netherlands (for the 2005 Bass Clarinet convention) and have recorded on the Innova label.

Clarinet Fusion, based in the San Francisco (CA, USA) Bay Area, began in 2009 when four amateur clarinet playing friends got together to play quartets. By 2012, more friends joined to form a full clarinet choir of nine. They've been awarded the Arts Recognition Award from their county, Contra Costa, population of 1.2 million. Clarinet Fusion was featured in the San Francisco Symphony (SFS) community outreach program and SFS clarinetist Jerome Simas has mentored and performed with them. The group performs at least eight concerts yearly, playing a variety of musical styles spanning all genres of music, including premiere and commissioned works. Their ClarinetFest selection includes Movement 1 from Symphony No. 9 – "New World" by Antonin Dvořák. Clarinet Fusion requested this piece from arranger William Johnson and collaborated with him extensively to bring it to life for clarinet choirs everywhere. Fusion premiered the work on the SFS stage in 2016.

Glazier is a founding member of the clarinet and saxophone ensemble, Duo Entre-Nous, with Belgian-based saxophonist Don-Paul Kahl. The duo is active in commissioning, performing, and recording works for clarinet and saxophone, and has been responsible for the creation of over 20 new works for the genre since 2016. Glazier is an artist with Buffet-Crampon and Vandoren, and performs exclusively on Buffet-Crampon clarinets and Vandoren reeds.

Duo Ferula was founded by clarinetist Kelli Ray and saxophonist Blake Adams at The University of Alabama, and they furthered their pursuit in the chamber music realm at Florida State University. They seek to expand the duo repertoire while promoting new works that represent uniting communities. They made their Carnegie Hall debut in 2022, collaborating with composers to premiere new works. They travel nationwide promoting the accessibility of music education by performing in schools, public libraries, and retirement communities.

Duo Humeros: Since the forming of the duo was born in an educational environment, the initial goal was to make classical music more accessible to the younger generation. By altering the rhythm of the themes, reharmonizing and improvising we presented classical music in a less strict fashion. The funky grooves also contributed to a feeling that the music is up to date and fresh, adjusting it to the musical taste of a broader audience. The same goes to shedding new light on traditional melodies.

Duo Lucent is comprised of two clarinetists, Julie Detweiler and Jackie McIlwain. We met while pursuing our doctorates and have collaborated as duo partners, specializing in music of women composers.

Musetta Ensemble was born from the idea of downsizing pieces from operas and musicals to produce pocket-size performances that can reach both smaller and larger audiences. The Ensemble began from the standpoint of creating tailor-made, balanced musical arrangements; while striving to explore creative ways to bring chamber music and vocal accompaniment closer together. The ensemble performs excerpts from a variety of works where the audience is introduced to different leading roles; as if one were having a cup of tea with their favourite character. Thus, making the music more accessible and allowing the audience to experience a broader yet intimate music experience. Both the orchestral and vocal scores are thoroughly studied by the Ensemble in order to be arranged into a format that fits the instruments, while maintaining the integrity of the original music.

Eric Schultz is an American clarinetist equally in demand as a soloist, chamber musician, and interpreter of new music. Hailed a “mastermind” in the Myrtle Beach Herald and “superhuman” by The Chanticleer, Schultz was recently selected as a quarterfinalist for the 2024 GRAMMY® Music Educator of the Year Award. As a performer, he maintains an active schedule performing with orchestras around the country and has appeared with preeminent artists such as Valerie Coleman and Joshua Bell in top halls across the world. He can be seen on Netflix and heard on National Public Radio.

An uncompromising advocate for the music of our time whose unique voice on the clarinet has inspired many of today’s finest composers, Schultz is known for his liquid, soulful tone quality and singular abilities on the instrument, including an unrivaled five-octave range, limitless facility of technique, and improvisations that span many dialects. As founding clarinetist of the Victory Players new music ensemble, his performing has been featured extensively by NPR through syndication.

Exalted as a “pathfinder” by iconic composer Valerie Coleman, Schultz encourages an individualized, project-based and passion-fueled creative approach to music learning while advocating for living composers and expanding repertoire lists toward a more intentionally inclusive and relevant future model. He is known for his transformational masterclasses with recent visits to the Conservatorio de Música Ástor Piazzolla in Buenos Aires, Illinois Urbana-Champaign, Conservatorio de Música de Puerto Rico, Clemson, Stony Brook, and more. Schultz currently serves as Assistant Professor of Music at Coastal Carolina University, where he is coordinator of the woodwind area and director of the Edwards Center for Inclusive Excellence.

Robin Seletsky, a second-generation klezmer clarinetist, grew up with the sound of klezmer in her family’s Brooklyn home. Her classical training, however, was initially her primary focus and brought her to New England Conservatory and the Juilliard School, where she studied with Peter Hadcock and Leon Russianoff, respectively. Robin was a member of both the San Antonio and Albany Symphonies and recently retired after 35 years as principal clarinetist with the Glimmerglass Opera Festival and the Binghamton Philharmonic. Her interest in klezmer began in the 1990’s and coincided with the klezmer revival. She has appeared around the country as a klezmer soloist and with her Jewish music ensemble, Big Galut(e). Her compositions and arrangements have been performed by symphony orchestras, ballet companies, and featured on National Public Radio. Robin enjoys contributing to the perpetuation of the tradition through her many YouTube teaching tutorials, master classes/clinics, and online teaching studio.

Eclectic and versatile, Voyager Reed Quintet was formed in Brooklyn, New York in the summer of 2022. Our ensemble's mission is inspired by the golden records aboard NASA's Voyager spacecraft. The quintet aims to explore the shared humanity of our players and audiences by performing music that traverses stylistic boundaries. We are inspired by the intersections of a wide variety of music, particularly that of living composers, jazz and popular music, contemporary classical music, and older works through transcriptions and arrangements. Voyager Reed Quintet was a semifinalist at the 2024 Fischhoff National Chamber Music Competition in South Bend, Indiana. They have performed throughout the northeast, most notably at The Juilliard School, the Imani Chamber Winds Music Festival, and Lincoln Center's "Summer for the City" Concert Series. They are the recipient of the Ensemble Forward Grant from Chamber Music America and the New York City Trust.

Whether it's Mozart, Monk, Brahms or Bird, clarinetist Mike Waddell has performed in a host of venues, including the Hollywood Bowl and Kennedy Center. A twice recipient of the North Carolina Jazz Composer's Fellowship, he produced the jazz CDs "Not From Concentrate" and "Defining Moments" to positive reviews. Mike has performed and or recorded with the Dukes of Dixieland, NC Jazz Festival, American Dance Festival, Fairbanks and Wilmington Symphonies. He performed solo clarinet on "Déjà Vu" (Henry Jaglom film), coached clarinetists for "Bolden," and played on the TV series One Tree Hill. Waddell received his Master of Music in Clarinet Performance from the University of Michigan and his Bachelors of Music Education from East Carolina University. His teachers include David Shifrin, Robert Listokin, John Mohler, Mike Cyzewski, Herbert Carter and Buddy DeFranco (jazz). He teaches clarinet and jazz history at the University of North Carolina Wilmington.

Dr. Michael Walsh is Professor of Clarinet at South Dakota State University where he also teaches Music History and Music Entrepreneurship. Walsh received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Miami, FL. He holds the distinction as being the first student to earn the DMA degree in Clarinet Performance and Pedagogy from the University of Kansas under Dr. Larry Maxey. Walsh is a member of the Miami Clarinet Quartet which has commissioned numerous works for the ensemble and recently recorded their first album of Music by Women Composers. As a bass clarinetist with the quartet and as a soloist, he has performed at the Oklahoma Clarinet Symposium, International Clarinet Association's Clarinetfest, the National Association of College Wind and Percussion Woodwind Ensemble of the Royal Norwegian Navy Band, a professional full-time wind orchestra based in Horten, south of Oslo, comprises 27 musicians. With a diverse repertoire encompassing classical, jazz, soul, and popular music, the band performs up to 150 concerts, parades, and smaller events annually. Over the last 25 years, the band has earned recognition as one of the premier wind orchestras in Europe, with several critically acclaimed CDs. The Royal Norwegian Navy Band has collaborated with renowned soloists such as Jose Carreras, Melody Gardot, and Ole Edvard Antonsen. The Woodwind ensemble primarily plays baroque-music and romantic piano-music especially arranged for this ensemble.

Cpl. Rachel Wright began playing the clarinet aged 8 years old. She mainly learnt by being involved in a cadet marching band, which led on to her joining the Royal Marines Band Service in 1992. Over the years, Rachel has travelled extensively with the RMBS. Some of the countries visited include Hong Kong, Canada, Australia, New Zealand along with a 3 month deployment around the Mediterranean on HMS Ocean in 1999. Rachel's career highlight was playing the Adagio from Mozart's Clarinet Concerto at the Royal Albert Hall in 2009, to over 15,000 people over 3 nights. Other memorable engagements include marching through London for the 2012 Olympics Victory Parade and playing for Queen Elizabeth II's funeral. Rachel has served almost 32 years in HM Royal Marines Band Service and is currently passing on her knowledge to the new recruits at the Royal Marines School of Music, based in Portsmouth.

transcription and analysis. She has performed as a guest soloist with leading ensembles, big bands and symphony orchestras across Europe, and regularly presents her research at conferences and workshops internationally. In 2021, Samantha released her debut album: “How About Now”, receiving critical acclaim worldwide.

Her latest band IVYMIND dances between the lines of improvisation, melodic interplay and soundscapes, engaging with popular songs as well as new compositions, with the goal of creating honest music.

Now in its 43rd season, Yellowstone Chamber Players offer a varied series of chamber music concerts. Originally organized to offer serious local musicians the opportunity to explore and perform works from the vast chamber repertoire, the organization evolved to provide its members not only the opportunity to continue their own professional growth, but, more importantly to share some of the world’s greatest music with their community. Now, ensembles of a variety of sizes and instrumentations come together reflecting the interests and ideas of YCP’s artist members. Continued contribution to the ever-increasing cultural activities in Billings and across Montana remains the goal of Yellowstone Chamber Players.

Evan Ziporyn (b. 1959, Chicago) began clarinet in 3rd grade, after his school ran out of trumpets. A few years later, as a high school freshman, he was for unexplained reasons shunted onto bass clarinet and baritone sax, a decision for which his back has yet to forgive him. A student of David Tuttle and Keith Wilson, he learned the principals of extended techniques from legendary flutist Robert Dick while attending a baseball game at Candlestick Park; his roommates later asked if he’d ‘broken’ his instrument. Member, Bang on a Can All-stars, 1992-2012. Recorded Steve Reich’s ‘New York Counterpoint’ for Noneuch; other premiere recordings include Philip Glass’ ‘Best Out of Three,’ Don Byron’s ‘Clarinet Concerto,’ his own works (‘This is Not a Clarinet,’ ‘Drill,’ ‘Big Grenadilla’), an album of multitrack cover tunes (Pop Channel). In 2023 he organized ‘Poppy 88’, a six-continent live telematic performance; his latest record, ‘Art Decade’ will be released in January 2025.

Amy Zuidema (they/she) is a clarinetist, composer, creator, & educator. They specialize in bass clarinet with an improvisational basis for their performances & compositions. Amy is an interdisciplinary creator & performer with roots in a diverse practice of improvised music, from jazz to contemporary to noise. A classically-trained clarinetist, they actively strive to bridge the gap between classical and DIY musical settings, challenging the expectations of the classical canon and opening up space for communal art-making.

Dr. Christine Carter is one of the few active concert artists worldwide conducting research in performance psychology, bridging the gap between research and current practice. She leads an interdisciplinary team on music learning and is a sought-after expert in the field, having published in a variety of outlets and presented over 100 performance psychology workshops for thousands of students at music institutions around the world. Christine is also the clarinetist of the critically acclaimed Iris Trio and the inter-arts Looking Glass Ensemble. Associate Professor of Single Reeds at Memorial University (Canada), she is a Buffet Crampon Artist and was recently inducted into the Royal Society of Canada’s College of New Scholars, Artists, and Scientists. www.christine-carter.com

PIANIST BIOGRAPHIES

Korean pianist Eunhye Grace Choi is an active pianist and chamber musician and is currently Artistic Director of Chamber Music Amici (Eugene, OR). She has performed extensively throughout the United States, France, Belgium, the UK, Netherlands, Spain, Finland, Taiwan, Singapore, and South Korea, and has recorded for Naxos, Emeritus, and Origin Classical. Her performances have also been broadcast on NPR's Performance Today. A versatile keyboardist, she was harpsichord soloist for J. S. Bach's Brandenburg Concerto cycle and collaborated with Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg in Vivaldi's Four Seasons. As a collaborative pianist in great demand, Choi regularly performs with musicians from the major symphony orchestras, including Cleveland, Philadelphia, St. Paul, Dallas, Chicago, and San Francisco Symphony as well as many of the world's most prestigious music schools and conservatories.

Lance Coburn: "...one sat awe-inspired in amazement, wondering how it could possibly be played any better..." is how the Kölnische Rundschau described Lance Coburn's performance of Prokofiev's 3rd Piano Concerto. Since winning first prize at the Tomassoni International Piano Competition, Cologne in 2001, Lance has performed in Austria, Germany, Italy, Greece, Israel, Russia, United States, Ireland, South Africa, Australia and Korea as both concerto soloist and recitalist.

He has performed with the Central Florida , the Israel and Sydney Symphony Orchestras, the RTE National Symphony and Hibernian Orchestras in Dublin, and most other Australian Orchestras. With the WDR – Cologne Orchestra, one critic described his performance of Beethoven's "Emperor" concerto thus: "Coburn approached the grandiose work....with the vigour of a classically-inspired artist".

Kim Davenport is a piano soloist and collaborative artist with a focus on music by underrepresented composers. She is an advocate for bass clarinet music, performing for nearly 20 years with her father Michael as Duo Alea, and continuing his legacy through Alea Publishing, a sheet music catalog featuring nearly 400 titles featuring the instrument.

A native of Marshalltown, Iowa, Gail Novak now lives and performs in the Phoenix area. Gail is in demand as a collaborator across the United States and frequently performs with students, professors, and guest artists at Arizona State University. Gail's extensive repertoire list for many different instruments has landed her invitations to perform at the National Trumpet Competition, the International Clarinet Festival, the International Double Reed Society, the National Flute Association, the International Trumpet Guild, the International Women's Brass Conference, and the International Tuba and Euphonium Conference. She is featured on recordings with David Hickman, Robert Spring, and Brad Edwards.

Gail is on the faculty at Mesa Community College in Mesa, Arizona, the collaborative piano staff at the Indiana Summer Music Festival, and is an avid teacher for young pianists.

Ekaterina Tangarova earned her Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from the National Academy of Music "Pancho Vladigerov" in Sofia, Bulgaria, under the direction of Prof. Anton Dikov. She established a national and international reputation of a highly- experienced collaborative artist, chamber musician, and teacher. She has taught at the National School of Dance Art in Sofia, The Superior School of Music and Dance in Monterrey, The University of Monterrey, and The Liceo de MTY, Mexico. During her career, Tangarova has collaborated with world-renowned musicians and soloists. In 2005, she established a vibrant piano studio in Austin, TX. Since then, Tangarova has been a frequent guest artist and collaborative pianist with faculty and students at the University of Texas at Austin Butler School of Music and Texas State University. Since 2016, Tangarova has been a resident pianist for the International Clarinet Association.

Buffet Crampon

Established in 1825, Buffet Crampon is the acknowledged world leader in clarinet manufacture, accounting for roughly 85% of all professional clarinet sales globally. The brand was founded by Denis Buffet-Auger in Paris; Denis was succeeded by his son Jean-Louis Buffet in 1830, who married Zoé Crampon in 1836, creating the iconic brand we know today. Buffet Crampon cemented its position as the world's leader in clarinet innovation with the introduction of the landmark R13 model in 1955. Designed by Robert Carrée, Buffet Crampon's legendary acoustician, the R13 first introduced the poly-cylindrical bore, now the standard for modern clarinet design and concept.

Since 1936, the name F. Arthur Uebel has been synonymous with the finest in clarinet making. Our clarinets are the perfect companions for musicians at any playing level – from those just starting out on their musical journey to seasoned professionals performing in sold-out concert halls around the world. At our workshops, valuable traditions of clarinet making are blended with ultra-modern manufacturing processes to create a harmonious symphony of artisanal perfection. This interplay results in clarinets that produce an unmistakable sound, captivating audiences and fellow musicians alike. We offer clarinets in both the German and French fingering systems, allowing you to choose the perfect model for your individual playing style. Each of our instruments is characterized by comfortable ergonomics, excellent intonation, and the unmistakable beauty of sound – whether it's a beginner clarinet or top-end concert model. The soul of our clarinets is the wood from which they are made. We use only the finest Grenadilla and Mopane woods for our instruments, and our natural drying process has a significant impact on the unique sound of our clarinets. Our craftsmen are passionate about their work, and every instrument they produce is a true masterpiece.

Rovner MC

Booth 8

Rovner Products, now known as Rovner MC, started 50 years ago with the creation of one ligature, the Rovner Dark. To this day it is the ligature of choice for educators and players of every description, from beginner to the highest level of professional performer. Over the years the Rovner line has expanded to include nine additional models, each bringing something distinctly different to the playing experience. With access to multiple Rovner ligature options, players can now find the ideal ligature to meet their needs and help them achieve their desired sound, allowing them to explore a broader tonal spectrum than ever before. Durable, reliable and high-performance, patented Rovner ligatures are made in the USA with an uncompromising dedication to quality and value. We've been setting the standards for woodwind innovation for decades, selling millions of ligatures to support the woodwind community worldwide. We're grateful to the many, many players who have made Rovner their ligature of choice and have remained loyal "Rovnerians." We thank the educators who have recommended us and we warmly welcome the next generation of young musicians who are only now discovering the difference a Rovner ligature can make. Love and appreciation for the power of music drives everything we do, and your enthusiastic support tells us that we do it right!

Silverstein Works

Booths 25, 26, 27

www.silversteinworks.com

Silverstein Works understands the journey shared by all musicians and what perfection means to them. In this journey, the right instrument is like an extension of the musician's body: it should respond in exactly the way you want it to. You train it, you explore it and you allow it to take part in the sound's artistry. Our goal is not to make simple products but rather to help create the artistry, unrestrained by anything other than your own desire and drive for perfection. The right sound, the right pitch, the right inflection, tone, breath and response — we understand what it takes to shape instruments and accessories that unlock your full potential. Silverstein Works and our products were born not only out of the need to be perfect, but to enjoy and relish the pursuit.
